

Please let low-power FM broadcasters have more space on the spectrum. I heard that the FCC mandates twice the spectrum distance between low-power broadcasters than they do high-power broadcasters, and that goes against common sense. There is nothing stopping us from letting low-power broadcasters be a wonderful force for diverse local programming.